

CSA Notice of Amendments to National Instrument 31-103
*Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations

Custody-Related Amendments

March 14, 2019

Introduction

We, the Canadian Securities Administrators (the CSA), are adopting amendments (the Custody Amendments) to certain custody-related provisions of National Instrument 31-103 Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations (NI 31-103).

The Custody Amendments have been, or are expected to be, adopted by each member of the CSA. In some jurisdictions, ministerial approvals are required for the implementation of the Custody Amendments. If all necessary ministerial approvals are obtained, the Custody Amendments will come into force on June 12, 2019. Further detail can be found in Annex A of this Notice.

Substance and Purpose

The substance and purpose of the Custody Amendments is to continue to align the permissible custodial practices in section 14.6.1 of NI 31-103 with the similar permitted custodial practices for investment funds in subsection 6.8(2) of National Instrument 81-102 Investment Funds (NI 81-102). This subsection deals with portfolio assets held as margin for derivatives transactions outside Canada.

Amendments to subsection 6.8(2) of NI 81-102 came into force on January 3, 2019 as part of the implementation of the final phase of the CSA's Modernization of Investment Fund Product Regulation Project. This final phase related to the establishment of a regulatory framework for alternative mutual funds (the NI 81-102 Amendments).

Implementing the Custody Amendments will result in all clients and investment funds of registered firms having the same ability to deposit assets with certain dealers in respect of cleared over-the-counter derivatives.

Background

We published proposed amendments for comment on October 25, 2018 (the October 2018 Proposal). The 60-day comment period ended on December 24, 2018. We received no comment letters on the October 2018 Proposal. We made a change to correctly reference the definition of “regulated clearing agency”, but no other changes have been made to the proposed amendments. As this change is not material, we are not publishing the Custody Amendments for another comment period.

Summary of amendments to NI 31-103

The amendments are to section 14.6.1 [custodial provisions relating to certain margin or security interests] of NI 31-103.

We added the definitions of the following terms to subsection 14.6.1(1) of NI 31-103:

- “cleared specified derivative”
- “regulated clearing agency”

We amended subsection 14.6.1(2) to permit clients or investment funds of a registered firm to deposit cash or securities with certain members of regulated clearing agencies as margin for certain transactions outside of Canada.

We amended paragraphs 14.6.1(2)(a) and (b) to subject members of “regulated clearing agencies” to the membership and net worth requirements set out in these paragraphs. Paragraph 14.6.1(2)(c) was amended to ensure that registered firms’ clients or investment funds only use members of “regulated clearing agencies” for margin transactions if, as per the existing requirements of this paragraph, it is more beneficial to the client or investment fund than using a Canadian custodian.

We also amended subsection 14.6.1(2) to include an additional type of permitted margin transaction, namely, transactions involving “cleared specified derivatives”.
